all in green

All in green went my love riding on a great horse of gold into the silver dawn.

Four lean hounds crouched low and smiling the merry deer ran before.

Fleeter be they than dappled dreams the swift red deer the red rare deer.

Four red roebuck at a white water the cruel bugle sang before.

Horn at hip went my love riding riding the echo down into the silver dawn.

the level meadows ran before.

Softer be they than slippered sleep the lean lithe deer the fleet flown deer.

Four fleet does at a gold valley the famished arrow sang before.

Bow at belt went my love riding riding the mountain down into the silver dawn.

the sheer peaks ran before.

Paler be they than daunting death the sleek slim deer the tall tense deer.

Four tall stags at the green mountain the lucky hunter sang before.

All in green went my love riding
into the silver dawn.

my heart fell dead before.

anyone lived in a pretty how town

(with up so floating many bells down) spring summer autumn winter he sang his didn't he danced his did.

Women and men (both little and small) cared for anyone not at all they sowed their isn't they reaped their same sun moon stars rain children guessed (but only a few and down they forgot as up they grew autumn winter spring summer) that noone loved him more by more when by now and tree by leaf she laughed his joy she cried his grief bird by snow and stir by still anyone's any was all to her someones married their everyones laughed their cryings and did their dance (sleep wake hope and then)they said their nevers they slept their dream stars rain sun moon (and only the snow can begin to explain how children are apt to forget to remember with up so floating many bells down)

one day anyone died i guess (and noone stooped to kiss his face) baby folk buried them side by side little by little and was by was all by all and deep by deep and more by more they dream their sleep noone and anyone earth by april with by spirit and if by yes.

Women and men (both dong and ding) summer autumn winter spring reaped their sowing and went their came sun moon stars rain

Edward Estlin Cummings
Ballad of the Scholar's Lament

When I have struggled through three hundred years of Roman history, and hastened o'er Some French play-(though I have my private fears Of flunking sorely when I take the floor In class),-when I have steeped my soul in gore And Greek, and figured over half a ream With Algebra, which I do (not) adore, How shall I manage to compose a theme?

It's well enough to talk of poor and peers, And munch the golden apples' shiny core,
And lay a lot of heroes on their biers;- While the great Alec, knocking down a score, Takes out his handkerchief, boohoo-ing, "More!"- But harshly I awaken from my dream, To find a new,-er,-privilege,-in store:
How shall I manage to compose a theme?

After I've swallowed prophecies of seers, And trailed Aeneas from the Trojan shore, Learned how Achilles, after many jeers, On piggy Agamemnon got to sore, And heard how Hercules, Esq., tore Around, and swept and dusted with a stream, There's one last duty,-let's not call it bore,- How shall I manage to compose a theme?

Envoi

Of what avail is all my mighty lore?
I beat my breast, I tear my hair, I scream:
"Behold, I have a Herculean chore.

Fame Speaks

Stand forth, John Keats! On earth thou knew'st me not;
Steadfast through all the storms of passion, thou, True to thy muse, and virgin to thy vow; Resigned, if name with ashes were forgot, So thou one arrow in the gold had'st shot!
I never placed my laurel on thy brow, But on thy name I come to lay it now, When thy bones wither in the earthly plot.
Fame is my name. I dwell among the clouds, Being immortal, and the wreath I bring Itself is Immortality. The sweets Of earth I know not, more the pains, but wing In mine own ether, with the crowndé crowds Born of the centuries. -Stand forth, John Keats!

I Am A Beggar Always

who begs in your mind

(slightly smiling, patient, unspeaking with a sign on his chest BLIND)yes i am this person of whom somehow you are never wholly rid(and who does not ask for more than just enough dreams to live on) after all, kid

you might as well toss him a few thoughts a little love preferably, anything which you can't pass off on other people: for instance a plugged promise-the he will maybe (hearing something fall into his hat)go wandering after it with fingers; till having found what was thrown away  himself taptaptaps out of your brain, hopes, life to( carefully turning a corner)never bother you any more

Anonymous submission.

Edward Estlin Cummings
i carry your heart with me i carry your heart with me(i carry it in my heart)i am never without it(anywhere i go you go,my dear; and whatever is done by only me is your doing,my darling) i fear no fate(for you are my fate,my sweet)i want no world(for beautiful you are my world,my true) and it's you are whatever a moon has always meant and whatever a sun will always sing is you here is the deepest secret nobody knows (here is the root of the root and the bud of the bud and the sky of the sky of a tree called life;which grows higher than the soul can hope or mind can hide) and this is the wonder that's keeping the stars apart i carry your heart(i carry it in my heart)

i have found what you are like

the rain

(Who feathers frightened fields with the superior dust-of-sleep. wields easily the pale club of the wind and swirled justly souls of flower strike the air in utterable coolness deeds of gren thrilling light newfragile yellows lurch and press

--in the woods which stutter

and

sing

And the coolness of your smile is stirring of birds between my arms; but i should rather than anything have (almost when hugeness will shut quietly) almost, your kiss

Edward Estlin Cummings
i like my body when it is with your body. It is so quite new a thing.
Muscles better and nerves more. i like your body. i like what it does, i like its hows. i like to feel the spine of your body and its bones, and the trembling -firm-smooth ness and which i will again and again and again kiss, i like kissing this and that of you, i like, slowly stroking the, shocking fuzz of your electric fur, and what-is-it comes over parting flesh ... And eyes big love-crumbs, and possibly i like the thrill of under me you so quite new

i sing of Olaf glad and big whose warmest heart recoiled at war:

a conscientious object-or his wellbelovéd colonel (trig westpointer most succinctly bred) took erring Olaf soon in hand; but-though an host of overjoyed noncoms (first knocking on the head him) do through icy waters roll that helplessness which others stroke with brushes recently employed anent this muddy toiletbowl, while kindred intellects evoke allegiance per blunt instruments-Olaf (being to all intents a corpse and wanting any rag upon what God unto him gave) responds, without getting annoyed

"I will not kiss your fucking flag" straightaway the silver bird looked grave (departing hurriedly to shave) but-though all kinds of officers

(a yearning nation's blueeyed pride) their passive prey did kick and curse until for wear their clarion voices and boots were much the worse, and egged the firstclassprivates on his rectum wickedly to tease by means of skillfully applied bayonets roasted hot with heat-Olaf (upon what were once knees) does almost ceaselessly repeat

"there is some shit I will not eat" our president,being of which assertions duly notified threw the yellowsonofabitch into a dungeon,where he died Christ (of His mercy infinite) i pray to see;and Olaf,too preponderatingly because unless statistics lie he was more brave than me:more blond than you

If

If freckles were lovely, and day was night, And measles were nice and a lie warn't a lie, Life would be delight,- But things couldn't go right For in such a sad plight I wouldn't be I.

If earth was heaven, and now was hence,
And past was present, and false was true, There might be some sense But I'd be in suspense For on such a pretense
You wouldn't be you.

If fear was plucky, and globes were square, And dirt was cleanly and tears were glee Things would seem fair,- Yet they'd all despair, For if here was there We wouldn't be we.

now i love you and you love me (and books are shutter and deep in the high that does nothing but fall (with a shout there's somebody calling who's we

If I have made, my lady, intricate imperfect various things chiefly which wrong your eyes (frailer than most deep dreams are frail) songs less firm than your body's whitest song upon my mind - if I have failed to snare the glance too shy - if through my singing slips the very skillful strangeness of your smile the keen primeval silence of your hair

- let the world say "his most wise music stole nothing from death" - you will only create (who are so perfectly alive) my shame: lady whose profound and fragile lips the sweet small clumsy feet of April came into the ragged meadow of my soul.

if I should sleep with a lady called death... (III) if I should sleep with a lady called death get another man with firmer lips to take your new mouth in his teeth (hips pumping pleasure into hips).

Seeing how the limp huddling string of your smile over his body squirms kissingly, I will bring you every spring handfuls of little normal worms.

Dress deftly your flesh in stupid stuffs, phrase the immense weapon of your hair.
Understanding why his eye laughs, I will bring you every year something which is worth the whole, an inch of nothing for your soul.

forgetting why, remember how in time of lilacs who proclaim the aim of waking is to dream, our now and here with paradise) forgetting if, remember yes in time of all sweet things beyond forgetting me, remember me

it is at moments after I have dreamed

of the rare entertainment of your eyes, when(being fool to fancy)i have deemed with your peculiar mouth my heart made wise; at moments when the glassy darkness holds the genuine apparition of your smile (it was through tears always)and silence moulds such strangeness as was mine a little while; moments when my once more illustrious arms are filled with fascination,when my breast wears the intolerant brightness of your charms:

one pierced moment whiter than the rest

-turning from the tremendous lie of sleep i watch the roses of the day grow deep.

it may not always be so it may not always be so; and i say that if your lips, which i have loved, should touch another’s, and your dear strong fingers clutch his heart, as mine in time not far away; if on another’s face your sweet hair lay in such a silence as i know, or such great writhing words as, uttering overmuch, stand helplessly before the spirit at bay; if this should be, i say if this should be -- you of my heart, send me a little word; that i may go unto him, and take his hands, saying, Accept all happiness from me.

Then shall i turn my face, and hear one bird sing terribly afar in the lost lands.

maggie and milly and molly and may maggie and milly and molly and may went down to the beach (to play one day) and maggie discovered a shell that sang so sweetly she couldn’t remember her troubles, and milly befriended a stranded star whose rays five languid fingers were; and molly was chased by a horrible thing which raced sideways while blowing bubbles: and may came home with a smooth round stone as small as a world and as large as alone.

my father moved through dooms of love

through sames of am through haves of give, singing each morning out of each night my father moved through depths of height doomless forgetful where turned at his glance to shining here; that if(so timid air is firm) under his eyes would stir and squirm ewly as from unburied which floats the first who, his april touch drove sleeping selves to swarm their fates woke dreamers to their ghostly roots and should some why completely weep my father's fingers brought her sleep: vainly no smallest voice might cry for he could feel the mountains grow.

Lifting the valleys of the sea my father moved through griefs of joy; praising a forehead called the moon singing desire into begin joy was his song and joy so pure a heart of star by him could steer and pure so now and now so yes the wrists of twilight would rejoice keen as midsummer's keen beyond conceiving mind of sun will stand, so strictly(over utmost him so hugely)stood my father's dream his flesh was flesh his blood was blood: no hungry man but wished him food; no cripple wouldn't creep one mile uphill to only see him smile.

Scorning the pomp of must and shall my father moved through dooms of feel; his anger was as right as rain his pity was as green as grain septembering arms of year extend less humbly wealth to foe and friend than he to foolish and to wise offered immeasurable is proudly and(by octobering flame beckoned)as earth will downward climb, so naked for immortal work his shoulders marched against the dark his sorrow was as true as bread: no liar looked him in the head; if every friend became his foe he'd laugh and build a world with snow.

My father moved through theys of we, singing each new leaf out of each tree (and every child was sure that spring danced when she heard my father sing) then let men kill which cannot share, let blood and flesh be mud and mire, scheming imagine, passion willed, freedom a drug that's bought and sold giving to steal and cruel kind, a heart to fear, to doubt a mind, to differ a disease of same, conform the pinnacle of am though dull were all we taste as bright, bitter all utterly things sweet, maggoty minus and dumb death all we inherit, all bequeath and nothing quite so least as truth -i say though hate were why men breathe-because my father lived his soul love is the whole and more than all my love

my love
thy hair is one kingdom the king whereof is darkness thy forehead is a flight of flowers thy head is a quick forest filled with sleeping birds thy breasts are swarms of white bees upon the bough of thy body thy body to me is April in those armpits is the approach of spring thy thighs are white horses yoked to a chariot of kings they are the striking of a good minstrel between them is always a pleasant song
my love
thy head is a casket of the cool jewel of thy mind the hair of thy head is one warrior innocent of defeat thy hair upon thy shoulders is an army with victory and with trumpets thy legs are the trees of dreaming whose fruit is the very eatage of forgetfulness thy lips are satraps in scarlet in whose kiss is the combinings of kings thy wrists are holy which are the keepers of the keys of thy blood thy feet upon thy ankles are flowers in vases of silver in thy beauty is the dilemma of flutes thy eyes are the betrayal of bells comprehended through incense may or may not account for the fact that my Uncle my Uncle Sol's farm the skunks caught cold and my Uncle Sol imitated the but somebody who'd given my Unde Sol a Victor Victrola and records while he lived presented to him upon the auspicious occasion of his decease a scrumptious not to mention splendidferous funeral with down with the human soul

(for Ever-Ever Land is a place that's as simple as simple can be and was built that way on purpose by simple people like we) down with hell and heaven and all the religious fuss infinity pleased our parents one inch looks good to us (and Ever-Ever Land is a place that's measured and safe and known where it's lucky to be unlucky and the hitler lies down with the cohn) down above all with love and everything perverse or which makes some feel more better when all ought to feel less worse since feeling is first

who pays any attention to the syntax of things will never wholly kiss you; wholly to be a fool while Spring is in the world my blood approves, and kisses are a better fate than wisdom lady i swear by all the flowers. Don't cry
- the best gesture of my brain is less than your eyelids' flutter which says we are for each other: then laugh, leaning back in my arms for life's not a paragraph and death i think is no parenthesis
Sometimes I Am Alive Because With

me her alert treelike body sleeps which i will feel slowly sharpening becoming distinct with love slowly, who in my shoulder sinks sweetly teeth until we shall attain the Springsmelling intense large togetherscoloured instant the moment pleasantly frightful when, her mouth suddenly rising, wholly begins with mine fiercely to fool (And from my thighs which shrug and pant a murdering rain leapingly reaches the upward singular deepest flower which she carries in a gesture of her hips)

somewhere i have never travelled somewhere i have never travelled, gladly beyond any experience,your eyes have their silence: in your most frail gesture are things which enclose me, or which i cannot touch because they are too near your slightest look easily will unclose me though i have closed myself as fingers, you open always petal by petal myself as Spring opens (touching skilfully,mysteriously)her first rose or if your wish be to close me,i and my life will shut very beautifully, suddenly, as when the heart of this flower imagines the snow carefully everywhere descending; nothing which we are to perceive in this world equals the power of your intense fragility:whose texture compels me with the color of its countries, rendering death and forever with each breathing

(i do not know what it is about you that closes and opens;only something in me understands the voice of your eyes is deeper than all roses) nobody,not even the rain,has such small hands

Spring is like a perhaps hand which comes carefully out of Nowhere) arranging a window, into which people look while people stare arranging and changing placing carefully there a strange thing and a known thing here)
and changing everything carefully spring is like a perhaps Hand in a window (carefully to and fro moving New and Old things, while people stare carefully moving a perhaps fraction of flower here placing an inch of air there)

without breaking anything.

there are so many tic toc...

  clocks everywhere telling people what toc tic time it is for tic tic tic instance five toc tic minutes toc past six tic

  Spring is not regulated and does not get out of order nor do its hands a little jerking move over numbers slowly we do not wind it up it has no weight springs wheels inside of its slender self no indeed dear nothing of the kind.

  (So when kiss Spring comes we'll kiss each kiss other on kiss the kiss lips because tic clocks toc don't make a toc tic difference to kiss kiss you and to kiss me) this(let's remember)day died again and... this(let's remember)day died again and again; whose golden, crimson dooms conceive an oceaning abyss of orange dream larger than sky times earth: a flame beyond soul immemorially forevering am- and as collapsing that grey mind by wave doom disappeared, out of perhaps (who knows?) eternity floated a blossoming (while anyone might slowly count to soon) rose-did you see her? darling, did you (kiss me) quickly count to never? you were wrong

- then all the way from perfect nowhere came (as easily as we forget something) livingest the imaginable moon
what if a much of a which of a wind
gives the truth to summer's lie; bloodies with dizzying leaves the sun and yanks immortal stars awry?
Blow king to beggar and queen to seem (blow friend to fiend: blow space to time) -when skies are hanged and oceans drowned, the single secret will still be man what if a keen of a lean wind flays screaming hills with sleet and snow: strangles valleys by ropes of thing and stifles forests in white ago?

Blow hope to terror; blow seeing to blind (blow pity to envy and soul to mind) -whose hearts are mountains, roots are trees, it's they shall cry hello to the spring what if a dawn of a doom of a dream bites this universe in two, peels forever out of his grave and sprinkles nowhere with me and you?

Blow soon to never and never to twice (blow life to isn't: blow death to was) -all nothing's only our hugest home; the most who die, the more we live when serpents bargain when serpents bargain for the right to squirm and the sun strikes to gain a living wage - when thorns regard their roses with alarm and rainbows are insured against old age when every thrush may sing no new moon in if all screech-owls have not okayed his voice

- and any wave signs on the dotted line or else an ocean is compelled to close when the oak begs permission of the birch to make an acorn - valleys accuse their mountains of having altitude - and march denounces april as a saboteur then we'll believe in that incredible unanimal mankind (and not until)

Where's Madge then,

Where's Madge then,
Madge and her men?
buried with Alice in her hair, (but if you ask the rain he'll not tell where.)

beauty makes terms with time and his worms, when loveliness says sweetly Yes to wind and cold;
and how much earth is Madge worth?
Inquire of the flower that sways in the autumn she will never guess. but i know

my heart fell dead before.

Young Woman of Cambridge,

"Gay" is the captivating cognomen of a Young Woman of Cambrige, Mass. to whom nobody seems to have mentioned ye olde freudian wish; when i contemplate her unejes safely ensonced in thick glass you try if we are a gentleman not to think of the world renowned investigator of paper sailors--argonauta argo harmoniously being with his probably most brilliant pupil mated, let us not deem it miraculous if their(so to speak)offspring has that largo appearance of somebody who was hectocotylerously propagated when Miss G touched n.y. our skeleton stepped from his cupboard gallantly offering to demonstrate the biggest best busiest city and presently found himself rattling for that well known suburb the bronx(enlivening an otherwise dead silence with harmless quips, out of Briggs by Kitty) arriving in an exhausted condition, i purchased two bags of lukewarm peanuts with the dime which her mama had generously provided(despite courteous protestations) and offering Miss Gay one(which she politely refused)set out gaily for the hyenas suppressing my frank qualms in deference to her not inobvious perturbations unhappily, the denizens of the zoo were that day inclined to be uncouthly erotic more particularly the primates--from which with dignity square feet turned abruptly Miss Gay away:

"on the whole"(if you will permit a metaphor savouring slightly of the demotic)
Miss Gay had nothing to say to the animals and the animals had nothing to say to Miss Gay during our return voyage, my pensive companion dimly remarlted something about "stuffed fauna" being "very interesting" . . . we also discussed the possibility of rain. . .

E distant proximity to a Y.W.c.a. she suddenly luffed --thanking me; and(stating that she hoped we might "meet again sometime")vanished, gunwale awash. I thereupon loosened my collar and dove for the nearest l; surreptitiously cogitating the dictum of a new england sculptor(well on in life)re the helen moller dancers, whom he considered "elevating--that is, if dancing CAN be elevating"

Miss(believe it or)Gay is a certain Young Woman unacquainted with the libido and pursuing a course of instruction at radcliffe college, cambrige, Mass. i try if you are a gentleman not to sense something un poco putrido when we contemplate her unejes safely ensonced in thick glass
